OUR COMMITMENT TO YOUR PRIVACY

Our practice is dedicated to maintaining the privacy of your health information. In conducting our business, we will create records regarding you and the treatment and services we provide to you. We are required by law to maintain the confidentiality of health information that identifies you. We also are required by law to provide you with this notice of our legal duties and the privacy practices that we maintain in our practice concerning your health information. By federal and state law, we must follow the terms of the notice of privacy practices that we have in effect at the time.

We realize that these laws are complicated, but we must provide you with the following important information:

• How we may use and disclose your health information
• Your privacy rights in your health information
• Our obligations concerning the use and disclosure of your health information

The terms of this notice apply to all records containing your health information that are created or retained by our practice. We reserve the right to revise or amend this Notice of Privacy Practices. Any revision or amendment to this notice will be effective for all of your records that our practice has created or maintained in the past, and for any of your records that we may create or maintain in the future. Our practice will post a copy of our current Notice in our offices in a visible location at all times, and you may request a copy of our most current Notice at any time.

UNDERSTANDING YOUR HEALTH RECORD AND INFORMATION

Each time you are admitted to our Practice, a record of your stay is made containing health and financial information. Typically, this record contains information about your condition, the treatment we provide and payment for the treatment. We may use and/or disclose this information to:

• plan your care and treatment
• communicate with other health professionals involved in your care
• document the care you receive
• educate health professionals
• provide information for medical research
• provide information to public health officials
• evaluate and improve the care we provide
• obtain payment for the care we provide
• Understanding what is in your record and how your health information is used helps you to:
  • ensure it is accurate
  • better understand who may access your health information
  • make more informed decisions when authorizing disclosure to others

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

The following categories describe the ways that we use and disclose health information. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall into one of the categories.

For Treatment:  We may use or disclose health information about you to provide you with medical treatment. We may disclose health information about you to doctors, nurses, therapists or other Practice personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, we may ask you to have laboratory tests (such as blood or urine tests), and we may use the results to help us reach a diagnosis. We might use your health information in order to write a prescription for you, or we might disclose your health information to a pharmacy when we order a prescription for you. Additionally, we may disclose your health information to others who may assist in your care, such as your spouse, children or parents. Finally, we may also disclose your health information to other health care providers for purposes related to your treatment.

For Payment:  We may use and disclose health information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at the Practice may be billed to you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may contact your health insurer to certify that you are eligible for benefits (and for what range of benefits), and we may provide your insurer with details regarding your treatment to determine if your insurer will cover, or pay for, your treatment. We also may use and disclose your health information to obtain payment from third parties that may be responsible for such costs, such as family members. Also, we may use your health information to bill you directly for services and items. We may disclose your health information to other health care providers and entities to assist in their billing and collection efforts.

For Health Care Operations:  We may use and disclose health information about you for our day-to-day health care operations. This is necessary to ensure that all patients receive quality care. As examples of the ways in which we may use and disclose your information for our operations, our Practice may use your health information to evaluate the quality of care you received from us, or to conduct cost-management and business planning activities for our Practice. We may disclose your health information to other health care providers and entities to assist in their health care operations.

Other aspects of health care operations that may require use and disclosure of your health information include accreditation, certification, licensing and credentialing activities, review and auditing, including compliance reviews, medical reviews, legal services and compliance programs. Your health information may be used and disclosed for the business management and general activities of the Practice including resolution of internal grievances, customer service and due diligence in connection with a sale or transfer of the Practice. In limited circumstances, we may disclose your health information to another entity subject to HIPAA for its own health care operations. We may remove information that identifies you so that the health information may be used to study health care and health care delivery without learning the identities of patients. We may disclose your age, birth date and general information about you in the Practice newsletter, on activities calendars, and to entities in the community that wish to acknowledge your birthday or commemorate your achievements on special occasions.

Release of Information to Family/Friends: Our Practice may release your health information to a friend or family member that is involved in your care, or who assists in taking care of you. For example, a parent or guardian may ask that a babysitter take their child to the allergist’s office for treatment. In this example, the babysitter may have access to this child’s medical information.

Disclosures Required By Law: Our Practice will use and disclose your health information when we are required to do so by federal, state or local law.

OTHER ALLOWABLE USES OF YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

Business Associates: There are some services provided in our Practice through contracts with business associates. Examples include medical directors, outside attorneys and a copy service we use when making copies of your health record. When these services are contracted, we may disclose your health information so that they can perform the job we’ve asked them to do and bill you or your third-party payer for services rendered. To protect your health information, however, we require the business associate to appropriately safeguard your information.

Providers: Many services provided to you, as part of your care at our Practice, are offered by participants in one of our organized healthcare arrangements. These participants include a variety of providers such as physicians (e.g., MD, DO, Podiatrist, Dentist, Optometrist), therapists (e.g., Physical therapist, Occupational therapist, Speech therapist), portable radiology units, clinical labs, hospice caregivers, pharmacies, psychologists, LCSWs, and suppliers (e.g., prosthetic, orthotics).

Treatment Alternatives: We may use and disclose health information to tell you about possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you.

Health-Related Benefits and Services and Reminders: We may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. Our Practice may use a “postcard” to remind you to make an appointment if there has been no office visit in the past six months.

Fundraising Activities: We may use health information about you to contact you in an effort to raise money as part of a fundraising effort. We may disclose health information to a foundation related to the Practice so that the foundation may contact you in raising money for the Practice. We will only release contact information, such as your name, address and phone number and the dates you received treatment or services at the Practice.

Practice Directory: We may include information about you in the Practice directory while you are a patient. This information may include your name, location in the Practice, your general condition (e.g., fair, stable, etc.) and your religion. The directory information, except for your religion, may be disclosed to people who ask for you by name. Your religion may be given to a member of the clergy, such as a priest or rabbi, even if they don’t ask for you by name. This is so your family, friends and clergy can visit you in the Practice and generally know how you are doing.

Individuals Involved in Your Care or Payment for Your Care: Unless you object, we may disclose health information about you to a friend or family member who is involved in your care. We may also give information to someone who helps pay for your care. In addition, we may disclose health information about you to an entity assisting in a disaster relief effort so that your family can be notified about your condition, status and location.
To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety: We may use and disclose health information about you to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. We would do this only to help prevent the threat.

Organ and Tissue Donation: If you are an organ donor, we may disclose health information to organizations that handle organ procurement to facilitate donation and transplantation.

Military and Veterans: If you are a member of the armed forces, we may disclose health information about you as required by military authorities. We may also disclose health information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Research: Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose health information about you for research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process. This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of health information, trying to balance the research needs with patients’ need for privacy of their health information. Before we use or disclose health information for research, the project will have been approved through this research approval process. We may, however, disclose health information about you to people preparing to conduct a research project so long as the health information they review does not leave a Practice.

Workers' Compensation: We may disclose health information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Reporting: Federal and state laws may require or permit the Practice to disclose certain health information related to the following:

Public Health Risks: We may disclose health information about you for public health purposes, including:

- Prevention or control of disease, injury or disability
- Reporting births and deaths
- Reporting child abuse or neglect
- Reporting reactions to medications or problems with products
- Notifying people of recalls of products
- Notifying a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease
- Notifying the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will only make this disclosure if you agree or when required or authorized by law

Health Oversight Activities: We may disclose health information to a health oversight agency for activities authorized by law. These oversight activities may include audits, investigations, inspections, and licensure. These activities are necessary for the government to monitor the health care system, government programs, and compliance with civil rights laws.

Judicial and Administrative Proceedings: If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose health information about you in response to a court or administrative order. We may also disclose health information about you in response to a subpoena, discovery request, or other lawful process by someone else involved in the dispute, but only if efforts have been made to tell you about the request or to obtain an order protecting the information requested.
Reporting Abuse, Neglect or Domestic Violence: Notifying the appropriate government agency if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence.

Law Enforcement: We may disclose health information when requested by a law enforcement official:

- In response to a court order, subpoena, warrant, summons or similar process;
- To identify or locate a suspect, fugitive, material witness, or missing person;
- About you, the victim of a crime if, under certain limited circumstances, we are unable to obtain your agreement;
- About a death we believe may be the result of criminal conduct;
- About criminal conduct at the Practice; and
- In emergency circumstances to report a crime; the location of the crime or victims; or the identity, description or location of the person who committed the crime.

Coroners, Medical Examiners and Funeral Directors: We may disclose medical information to a coroner or medical examiner. This may be necessary to identify a deceased person or determine the cause of death. We may also disclose medical information to funeral directors as necessary to carry out their duties.

National Security and Intelligence Activities: We may disclose health information about you to authorized federal officials for intelligence, counterintelligence, and other national security activities authorized by law.

Correctional Institution: Should you be an inmate of a correctional institution, we may disclose to the institution or its agents health information necessary for your health and the health and safety of others.

OTHER USES OF HEALTH INFORMATION

Other uses and disclosures of health information not covered by this Notice or the laws that apply to us will be made only with your written permission. If you provide us permission to use or disclose health information about you, you may revoke that permission, in writing, at any time. If you revoke your permission, we will no longer use or disclose health information about you for the reasons covered by your written authorization. You understand that we are unable to take back any disclosures we have already made with your permission, and that we are required to retain our records of the care that we provided to you.
